About hikaru's men's accessories collection.....

This is Hikaru's third year of producing a men's knitted accessories collection. Since the Hikaru Noguchi women's knitted accessories collection was first launched in 1996, her products attained a great reputation among men as well. "Well designed products should be genderless and timeless, and all fabrics must be beautiful both from the front and from the back," Hikaru remarks.

It takes hard work to create good honest products without too many fancy details. Hikaru prides herself on creating such products for her men's collection, and has been rewarded by the warm response to the collection from around the world.
