About hikaru noguchi's collection.....

Hikaru has been working with family run knitting workshops in the English Midlands and Scotland since 1996. The owners and staff of these workshops understand what the real quality of British woollen products should be. What is right to create a beautiful product is the most important factor for us. There are no compromises and no short cuts. We mix the latest computerised knitting machines with detailed work by hand. We cannot produce huge quantities of products in this way, but we are all happy and we love what we create.
